NOTICE OF REMOVAL

X

TO: THE HONORABLE JUDGES OF THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

Defendant American Airlines, Inc. ("American Airlines") hereby files this Notice of Removal of the above-captioned matter from the Supreme Court of the State of New York, County of New York, Index No. 05/107688 to the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York. In support of the removal, American Airlines respectfully states:

I.

STATE COURT ACTION

1. On or about June 2, 2005, Plaintiffs served a Summons with Notice on American Airlines, alleging negligence, fraud, and breach of contract in the amount of $2 million, plus costs and attorneys fees with interest from June 5, 2005. A copy of the Summons with Notice is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

2. On July 13, 2005, counsel for American Airlines served on counsel for Plaintiffs a Notice of Appearance and Demand for a Complaint. A copy of the Notice of Appearance and Demand for Complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit B.

3. On or about September 1, 2005, Plaintiffs served a Complaint on American Airlines alleging that American was negligent in transporting Plaintiff Cameron Polesuk's umbilical cord blood ("cord blood") by air from New York to Arizona. A copy of the Complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit C.

4. This Notice of Removal is timely filed under 28 USC § 1446(b), being within thirty (30) days of receipt of the Complaint at which time it was first ascertained that this matter was removable under 28 USC § 1331.

II.

BASIS FOR REMOVAL

5. American Airlines is an air carrier engaged in interstate commerce. According to the Complaint, Plaintiffs allege that American Airlines was negligent in transporting Plaintiff Cameron Polesuk's cord blood by air from New York to Arizona and seeks to recover approximately $2 million in damages. Plaintiffs' claims raise federal question jurisdiction based on (1) the federal common law that controls an action seeking to recover damages against an airline for lost or damaged shipments; and (2) preemption. The United States District Court for the Southern District of New York has original jurisdiction over this matter based on federal question. Specifically, jurisdiction lies under 28 USC § 1331, which provides that "[t]he district courts shall have original jurisdiction of all civil actions arising under the Constitution, laws, or treaties of the United States."

A. Federal Question Under Federal Common Law

6. Federal jurisdiction exists if the claims in the case arise under federal common law. Illinois v. City of Milwaukee, 406 I.S. 91, 100, 92 S.Ct. 1385, 1391 (1972) (concluding that Section 1331 jurisdiction will support claims founded upon federal common law as well as those of statutory origin). Courts have held that private civil suits against air carriers for lost or damaged goods arise under federal common law. See, e.g., Sam L. Majors Jewelers v. ABX, Inc., et al., 1771 F.3d 922, 929 (5th Cir. 1997) (holding that the shipper's causes of action against the interstate air carrier for property loss or damage arose under federal common law and, therefore, a federal cause of action exists for freight claims against air carriers).

B. Federal Question Under Preemption

7. Plaintiffs have asserted a number of state law claims against American Airlines which relate to the services it provides as an air carrier. Congress has exhibited an intent to preempt state law causes of action such as the types of claims brought by Plaintiffs herein. The Air Deregulation Act of 1978 ("ADA") expressly provides:

A state . . . may not enact or enforce a law, regulation, or other provision having the force and effect of law relating to a price, route or service of an air carrier that may provide air transportation under this subpart.

49 USC § 41713(b)(1); See Morales v. TransWorld Airlines, Inc., 504 U.S. 374, 384, 112 S.Ct. 2031, 2037 (1992) (explaining that the phrase "relating to rates, routes, or services" in the ADA was "deliberately expansive" and preempted any "state enforcement action having a connection with a reference to airline rates, routes, or services"); American Airlines, Inc. v. Woolens, 513 U.S. 219, 228, 115 S.Ct. 817, 824 (1995) (expanding upon ADA preemption as a device to protect the deregulation of the airline industry by preventing the "application of restrictive state laws").

8. Under 28 USC § 1441(a), venue of the removed action is proper in this Court as the district and division embracing the place where the state action is pending.

9. American Airlines will promptly give Plaintiffs written notice of the filing of this Notice of Removal as required by 28 USC § 1446(d). A true copy of this petition will be filed with the Clerk of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, County of New York, as provided by law.

III.

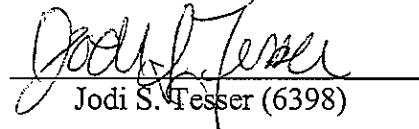

CONSENT OF DEFENDANTS

10. Removal is effectuated in this case by American Airlines with the consent of the other two co-defendants, CBR Systems Inc. a/k/a Cord Blood Registry Systems ("CBR Systems") and Q International Courier, Inc. a/k/a Quick International Courier ("Quick"). Counsel for American Airlines spoke with counsel for CBR Systems and Quick, who provided consent on behalf of both CBR Systems and Quick respectively for American Airlines to sign this Notice of Removal on their clients' behalf. Accordingly, all served defendants have joined in this Removal.

Plaintiffs, JONATHAN D. POLESUK, PERI POLESUK and CAMERON POLESUK ("POLESUKS"), by their undersigned attorney, STEVEN R. GOLDBERG, ESQ., for their complaint against the defendants, CBR SYSTEMS INC. a/k/a CORD BLOOD REGISTRY SYSTEMS, Q INTERNATIONAL COURIER, INC. a/k/a Quick International Courier and AMERICAN AIRLINES, INC. alleges, upon information and belief:

PARTIES

1. Plaintiffs JONATHAN D. and PERI POLESUK are a married couple who reside in the City of Scarsdale, County of Westchester, State of New York.

2. Plaintiff CAMERON POLESUK is the son of JONATHAN D. and PERI POLESUK, and was born on June 4, 2003.

3. Defendant CORD BLOOD REGISTRY ("CBR"), is a clinical-stage biotechnology company in the business of, among other things, collecting, testing, processing, and preserving umbilical cord blood ("Cord Blood")—a procedure known as "banking."

4. Defendant QUICK INTERNATIONAL COURIER ("QUICK") is in the business of, among other things, providing time-sensitive domestic and international courier services.

5. Defendant AMERICAN AIRLINES, INC. is in the business of providing air transportation for passengers and freight domestically and internationally.

BACKGROUND

6. CBR states that it is the world leader in cord blood stem cell banking.

7. Cord Blood, which is also called "placental blood," is the blood that remains in the umbilical cord and placenta following birth and after the cord is cut. In the past, cord blood was routinely discarded with the placenta and umbilical cord.

8. The stem cells found in the cord blood are genetically unique to the baby and the family.

9. The actual and potential uses of neonatal stem cells found in cord blood to treat and cure disease are significant and growing.

10. By banking a child's cord blood at birth, parents ensure the child will have a compatible source of stem cells for future therapeutic use, and also substantially increase the likelihood of locating compatible stem cells for use by related family members.

11. CBR states that cord blood has been used successfully to aid and assist in therapeutic uses.

12. Collecting and storing a child's cord blood is a once in a lifetime opportunity and should be stored no later than 32 hours after birth.

AS AND FOR A FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION AGAINST CBR (FRAUD)

13. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege/state each and every allegation contained in Paragraphs 2 through 12 with the same force and effect as if fully set forth herein.

14. On or about February 2003, CBR contacted Plaintiff Peri Polesuk, after discovering that she was pregnant, in order to encourage her to use CBR's services.

15. On or about February 2003, CBR forwarded to Peri Polesuk its various promotional materials to assist her in making a decision to utilize CBR's services.

16. The promotional and registrations materials from CBR in which CBR represented that it was "The Name to Trust" and that it "is the most trusted name in cord blood banking." CBR also advertised that it was the "gold standard."

17. On or about May 2003, via the CBR website, CBR also made the following representations to prospective customers with regard to the transportation of the Cord Blood to CBR:

"One-Step shipping service, which requires only a single phone call after your baby's birth. CBR's systems are fully integrated with Quick International Courier to provide easy pick-up and seamless tracking...."

and

“CBR offers simple, prearranged shipping with an experienced courier, requiring only one phone call after your baby’s birth. Our automated tracking system is designed to help facilitate timely delivery of your baby’s cord blood to our laboratory. You can relax with your new baby while we track your sample every step of the way.”

18. CBR charges customers a fee of $1385.00 (comprising an enrollment fee of $295.00 and a fee of $995.00 once the specimen has been processed) to oversee the collection, shipment, testing, and processing of Cord Blood following the birth of a child. For a further fee of $95.00 per year, CBR cryogenically preserves the Cord Blood unit for potential future use in stem cell therapy for the child or other family members.

19. The representations made by CBR were in fact false. The true facts were that CBR did not use adequate level of standards to transport the Polesuks’ newborn son’s Cord Blood units to CBR’s Cord Blood Banking facility, given the nature and importance of the shipment.

20. In particular, CBR did not have a secure chain of custody for Cord Blood shipments in place to ensure delivery within 32 hours of birth, nor did CBR have a system in place to adequately handle and protect the shipment of this sensitive irreplaceable good.

21. In fact, CBR couriers from QUICK do not hand-carry their Cord Blood shipments to CBR’s Cord Blood banking facility located in Arizona.

22. Rather, the QUICK couriers would place the Cord Blood shipments on regularly scheduled airline flights to Arizona, and other QUICK couriers would pick up the shipments from the airlines’ baggage terminal at the other end. In fact, the Cord Blood shipments are transported and handled as any other non-perishable item.

23. Given the nature of the specimens, greater care should have been taken with the materials.

24. When CBR contacted the Polesuks and later detailed the regular procedures the company used in obtaining, delivering and storing their enfant son's Cord Blood, the Polesuks were induced to rely on the ease of shipping the Core Blood.

25. CBR made these representations with the intention to induce Plaintiffs to act in reliance on them in contracting for its Cord Blood Banking services, or with the expectation that Plaintiffs would so act.

26. Plaintiffs, at the time CBR made these representations and at the time they contracted with CBR for Cord Blood Banking services, were ignorant of the falsity of CBR's representations and its secret intention not to perform as promised, and could not, in the exercise of reasonable diligence, have discovered the falsity of CBR's representations.

27. On or about May 23, 2003, in reliance on these representations, Plaintiffs entered into a contract with CBR for the collection, shipment, processing, and storage of their son's Cord Blood (the "Cord Blood Banking Agreement").

28. Had Plaintiffs known the actual facts about CBR's Cord Blood Banking services, they would not have agreed to enter into the Cord Blood Banking Agreement.

29. Immediately after Plaintiff's son was born on June 4, 2005, CBR arranged for a courier from Quick to pickup Plaintiff's Cord Blood units for transport to CBR's Cord Blood Banking facility located in Arizona.

30. Plaintiffs have performed all of the conditions and obligations on their part to be performed under the terms of the Cord Blood Banking Agreement, except to the extent that they have been prevented or excused from doing so by the acts, breaches, and omissions of Defendants.

31. Twenty four hours after handing over his infant son's Cord Blood, Plaintiff Jon Polesuk contacted CBR to confirm that Plaintiff's Cameron's Cord Blood had been received at the storage facility.

32. Plaintiff Jon Polesuk was told that his infant son's Cord Blood had been destroyed.

33. At no time prior to Plaintiff's call did CBR contact Plaintiffs to advise Plaintiffs that the Cord Blood had been destroyed.

34. According to CBR, Plaintiff Cameron's Cord Blood was destroyed in Dallas, Texas.

Plaintiff Jon Polesuk was told that Plaintiff Cameron Polesuk's Cord Blood had been in a box, stationed on a luggage cart, on a tarmac in Dallas and that a sudden gust of wind blew the box off the luggage cart and a truck subsequently ran over the box and Infant Polesuk's Cord Blood was not salvageable.

35. CBR did not use the promised highest level of standards to transport Plaintiff's Cord Blood units to the CBR Cord Blood Facility located in Arizona. In particular, CBR did not have a secure chain of custody in place for Plaintiff's Cord Blood shipment to ensure delivery within 24 hours of birth.

36. The Quick Courier arranged for by CBR did not hand-carry Plaintiff's Cord Blood units to the CBR Cord Blood Banking Facility. Rather, the Quick Courier attempted to place the Plaintiff's Cord Blood units on an American Airlines flight to Arizona.

37. While the Cord Blood was being transported from the Quick Courier to American Airlines, the Cord Blood units were completely destroyed.

38. CBR's conduct was an intentional misrepresentation, deceit, or concealment of a material fact known to it and made with the intention of thereby depriving Plaintiffs of property or legal rights, or otherwise causing injury, and was despicable conduct that subjected Plaintiffs to cruel and unjust hardship in conscious disregard of Plaintiffs' rights, so as to justify an award of exemplary and/or punitive damages.

39. As a proximate result of the fraudulent conduct of CBR as alleged herein, Plaintiffs have been damaged in an amount to be proven at trial but not less than TWO MILLION DOLLARS ($2,000,000.00).

AS AND FOR A SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION AGAINST CBR (BREACH OF CONTRACT)

40. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege/state each and every allegation contained in Paragraphs 2 through 12 and Paragraph 14 through 38 with the same force and effect as if fully set forth herein.

41. CBR breached its agreement with Plaintiffs by failing to use its promised highest level of standards to transport Plaintiff's Cord Blood units to CBR's Cord Blood Banking facility located in Arizona; failing to have a secure chain of custody in place for Plaintiff's Cord Blood shipment to ensure delivery within 24 hours of birth and failing to have a proper standard of care for handling such fragile and irreplaceable goods.

42. Based on the foregoing, CBR breached its agreement with Plaintiffs and Plaintiffs have been damaged in an amount to be proven at trial but not less than TWO MILLION DOLLARS ($2,000,000.00).

AS AND FOR A THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION AGAINST CBR, QUICK AND AMERICAN AIRLINES (NEGLIGENCE)

43. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege/state each and every allegation contained in Paragraphs 2 through 12 and Paragraphs 14 through 38 and 41 with the same force and effect as if fully set forth herein.

44. CBR was negligent by failing to use its promised highest level of standards to transport Plaintiff's Cord Blood units to CBR's Cord Blood Banking facility located in Arizona; failing to have a secure chain of custody in place for Plaintiff's Cord Blood shipment to ensure delivery within 24 hours of birth and failing to have a proper standard of care for handling such fragile and irreplaceable goods.

45. Quick was negligent by failing to use its promised highest level of standards to transport Plaintiff's Cord Blood units to CBR's Cord Blood Banking facility located in Arizona; failing to have a secure chain of custody in place for Plaintiff's Cord Blood shipment to ensure delivery within 32 hours of birth and failing to have a proper standard of care for handling such fragile and irreplaceable goods.

46. American Airlines was negligent by failing to use its promised highest level of standards to transport Plaintiff's Cord Blood units to CBR's Cord Blood Banking facility located in Arizona; failing to have a secure chain of custody in place for Plaintiff's Cord Blood shipment to ensure delivery within 24 hours of birth and failing to have a proper standard of care for handling such fragile and irreplaceable goods.

47. Based on the foregoing, CBR, Quick and American Airlines were negligence in the handling of the Cord Blood units and were the proximate and direct cause of its loss.

48. As a result of CBR, Quick and American Airlines breaches of its agreement with Plaintiffs, Plaintiff's have been damaged in an amount to be proven at trial but not less than TWO MILLION DOLLARS ($2,000,000).

AS AND FOR A FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION AGAINST QUICK AND AMERICAN AIRLINES (NEGLIGENT INTERFERENCE WITH CONTRACT)

49. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege/state each and every allegation contained in Paragraphs 2 through 12 and Paragraph 14 through 38 and 41 and Paragraphs 45 and 46 with the same force and effect as if fully set forth herein.

50. Plaintiffs allege on information and belief that defendants QUICK and AMERICAN AIRLINES, INC., were informed and aware when they entered into the above described contracts with CBR for the transportation of Plaintiffs' Cord Blood, that their failure to deliver the Cord Blood to CBR's Cord Blood Banking facility in a timely fashion, and in no event more than 32 hours after birth, could threaten the viability of the Cord Blood for use in future stem cell transplantation.

51. Defendants QUICK and AMERICAN AIRLINES, INC. nevertheless negligently failed to transport Plaintiffs' Cord Blood in a timely fashion, in that they failed to take ordinary and basic precautions to protect the Plaintiffs' Cord Blood shipment and to treat it as a fragile, perishable and unique item.

52. As a result, Plaintiffs' Cord Blood was destroyed and its future use lost and irreplaceable.

53. As a result of the above described negligence, Plaintiffs have been damaged in an amount to be proven at trial but not less than TWO MILLION DOLLARS ($2,000,000).
